Dr. John Griffin, who it seems is a golfer from 'way back has dusted off the old clubs after a long lay-off and has gone to war with local golfers at the Paces Christian Golf Course. Doc shoots a good game.

A coming event of much interest will be the junior dance of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, next Saturday night. The young folks always have a good time.

Large catches of soft crabs and flounders this week and last has run the blood pressure of this kind of sportsmen up 100 percent. Soft crabs in large numbers have been reported by several. Out front of the Bay looks like Canal Street all lit up, with torches and gasoline lights every night.

Jimmy Ryan and his buddy caught over 75 soft crabs one night.

LAST LAP—In the 380 yard run at the Triangular track meet between Stanislaus, Bay High and Picaune, Birch Wilbert, a Rockachaw trackman is shown leading the field in the last lap of this run. Running second is Ray Smith of Bay High and third is a Picaune man. They finished in the same positions as they were then.

Among the old crabbers who will be reporting their usual catches this week.

es are John Damborino, Henry Lang, Nolan Ladner, Eddie Blaize, Pat McGinity, Dec Elliott, Harold Carver, Don McCulloch, etc.

There's room for everyone and supply seems to be unlimited at this time.

B. D. Hogue has been telling a lot lately of the nice catches of green trout and perch he has been making of late. Wednesday he and C. C. McDonald, Sr., with their faithful paddler Maurice Summers, one of the best in the country had a good time fighting a high tide Wednesday afternoon, but still got their share!

Attorney and Mrs. C. E. Feilich, Corbendale, Illinois, guests at Hotel Reed have really been enjoying the fishing hereabouts; they report getting the limit the first day out and have been fishing everyday since. Tell 'em where you got them, folks, when you get back home.

Ladies Day at the Pass Christian Isles Club continues each Tuesday. The ladies are very enthusiastic and are having lots of fun besides improving their game with lots of practice, says Mrs. Jane Bassett a hard worker for the club.

The men of the Bay-Pass District of Boy Scouts had a wonderful time Sunday afternoon at Camp Robinson at Pass Christian. They were completing an instruction course in camping, cooking, tent pitching and other phases of outdoor life. The men were boys for a day, and wound up the meeting with meaballs and spaghetti supper. Eleven men were in attendance.

Bert Estapa and Buster Heitzmann made a triu to the keys but had no luck. What got their goat was that a fisherman fishing near the Legion pier caught 9 beautiful speckles. That's the way it goes! The grass always seems greener on the other side!

Bay Vs. Waveland

In First Game

Of Baseball League

The Hancock County Junior Baseball League will open its season Sunday with a game between the Bay Juniors and Waveland at St. Stanislaus stadium.

A parade involving all the players and supporters will take place before the game.

The probable starting battery for the Bay team is Larry Mathes and Tommy Kidd. Waveland has not decided.

Other returning lettermen from last year's Bay team are Billy Rhodes, Speedy Rhodes, Kenny Artigues, Billy Monti, Rick Rupert, J. E. Loiacano, Donald Strong, Herman Jacobi and Wayne Alliston.

One other team has been entered in the league. Kiln. The Hancock County Baseball Association met last night to decide on other applicants.

Four teams are needed to be able to be recognized officially as Little Bigger League and compete in the state tournament in Jackson.

Randolph Wins In New Orleans

Of the five boys from Bay St. Louis who fought in the St. Mary's C. Y. O. card Tuesday night Terrell Randolph was the only winner.

Randolph knocked out Villifari in one minute and 40 seconds of the third round.

In the other matches involving local boys, Roland Soldinle lost a split decision to Cummings; A. J. Peterson lost by a decision to Pansano and John Petersoh lost by the same verdict to Bobineaux.

In the other bout Carl Garcia lost by the knockout route to Raymond Duffenhefer.

Randolph and A. J. Peterson are trying to enter the A. A. U. card to be held in New Orleans, April 21.

Stanislaus Wins

In a triangular track meet held last Friday at St. Stanislaus between the host team, Bay High and Picaune, the Rockachaw cindermen won with a total of 75 points. Bay High finished second with 26 and Picaune third with 18 points.

Sportsweek

With the approaching of the District Track Meet to be held in Pascagoula on Easter Sunday, Coach Farley Day of St. Stanislaus is divided in his thoughts in the outcome of his team.

Coach Day said, "Blaxi is the team to beat. They bettered last year's district points by six in their last meet and have went four above that mark in our triangular meet last week."

"As it stands now I believe a couple of my boys have a very good chance to take first place honors. Louie Ladner showed very well in the pole vault, reaching 10 feet, six inches. Birch Wilbert is looking good in the high jump and the distance run. Our broad jump is shaping up with Ladner and A. J. Burke."

He added, "All in all we have a better chance in our field events than in our track. We reached 40 feet in the shot put for the first time last week and we won the discus with a pretty good throw."

Latest Foolishness

The state legislature can dawdle over a vital matter as financing the schools. But it still has time for ludicrous anti-drinking bills that won't work.

The latest is to force the Board of Supervisors in each county to list by public advertisement the liquor dealers. This supposedly would brand them for life and send them either to the hoosegow or to the woods.

Frankly, this newspaper wouldn't accept the people's tax money for such a ridiculous purpose.

The whole liquor situation is a joke, dating back to prohibition's conclusive proof that you cannot legislate against drinking without abuse. You can slap a man in jail for drunken driving. You can slap him in jail for squandering his money and not supporting his family. You can slap him in jail for disturbing the peace in any manner.

But you cannot prevent him from drinking as long as he does not harm an innocent party.

It's pretty well known that certain legislators in Jackson will vote dry faithfully just so long as the voting does not cut into their cocktail hour.

It's a shame that the people don't elect these hypocrites from position of authority. When a community wants to be dry, it will be dry. And when it wants to be wet, it will be wet.

No amount of political shenanigans will change that.

The Right Type

The schools of the community are its most important force. The personnel of the schools holds a great responsibility.

So it is gratifying to find a person the caliber of Mrs. C. C. McDonald running for the school board. This is no job for a political hack. This is a job for a person of culture, of organizational experience, and of absolute integrity.

Mrs. McDonald has all of the qualifications, and the citizens of the community should not only be proud, but also grateful, to cast a vote for her.

Pass Christian News

A style show sponsored by the Thrift Shop was the program at the monthly meeting of the Pass Christian P-T-A. Fashions ranged from toddler size through the teenage size. Mrs. Robert Null introduced the commentator, Mrs. John Kovance.

Student models were, in the order of their appearance, Margaret Ellis, Barbara Cox, Betsy Bourn-din, Victoria Null, Fay Fournier, Jerry Stewart of the Pass Elementary School. Models from the high school were Gale Bradley, Nancy Robison, Patsy Kimball, Shirley Scarborough, Ruby Jo Lively, Lorraine Castelin, Kaye De Metz, Alice Frank, Patsy Necaise, Gladys Bergeron, Alice Faragut, and David Mangum.

The show closed with a comic note by seven belles from the P-T-A membership. They were "Mrs. Jounicy Bell" (T. J.) Broad-us, stunning in a washed out, pleated orchid skirt - with a saggy bounce' blouse worn with a royal purple wool topper and a rakish half off yellow felt hat - the ideal outfit for a day of golf. "Mrs. Marvelous" (Roland) Martin charming in a beige linen street dress with plunging neckline. Her accessories were a straw skimmer rampant with taffeta, giant amber bracelet, and a snake skin bag from the snake farm.

"Mrs. Luscious" (Ed) Lively, as Luscious as the unheard of spring flowers crawling over her black outfit, a green straw hat topped with a live jonquil complete with a bee to keep her bugging was perched at an unbecoming angle on her head.

"Mrs. Beautious" (S. R.) Bennett was devastating in a black cocktail dress, the indefinite hemline of which was caught up to the knee with a magnificent rose. Her hat repeated the mazy rose motif.

"Mrs. Dainty Dolly" (John) de Metz had on a black rulle from someone's attic, which was trimmed with a dash of limp velvet. A sky-high hat all a-glitter with sequins and a bumpy veil adorned her petite head.

"Mrs. Classy" (William) Kalif was ready to step out into high society in her red dinner dress with matching jacket (vintage 1920). A lovely rat stole to be found exclusively at the Thrift Shop completed her outfit.

Last but far from least was "Mrs. Slink-Along" (Bernard) Love - glamorous to the hilt, split to the knee in a hostess gown of sea-sick green for chic wear on the sea coast. Her two-foot cigarette holder was of glittered bamboo. Her three-inch eyelashes would be a great aid in case the summer breeze died down. At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Roy Moffit, president, presented a gift to Mrs. Ko Vace in appreciation for all of the work she has done with the Thrift Shop this year.

A short business meeting was held where it was announced that Mesdames Warren Adam, Grady Mangum, and William Kalif will represent the Pass Christian group at the State P-T-A convention in Jackson, April 6th and 7th. The sixth grade won the attendance banner and was also awarded the prize.

Following the meeting, a tea honoring the teachers was given in the Home Economics department. Miss Naomi Saucier poured.

Inaugurating its first non-professional program at Mid-Oaks in Pass Christian Sunday, the Gulf Coast Theatre of Arts presented members with a Youth Recital given by teen-age musicians, and simultaneously exhibited the work of three young Gulf Coast artists.

One of them, Miss Susan Shipp, was only 11 years old and exhibited after only three years of training at Judith's Art School in Gulfport. Julie Hatten and Donna Deabler, in their teens, were the other artists in the exhibition, which included miniatures, pen and inks, water colors and oils.

The musicians, whose selections ranged from light to heavy works of the old masters like Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, Debussy, Grieg, Schubert and Sibelius, were Doris Jean Jackson, pianist; Terry Fahrion, soprano, accompanied by Elizabeth McLaughlin; Peter Henderson, pianist; and Nancy Mize, pianist. The performers, all in their middle teens, were selected by the Theatre's Music Committee, composed of Mrs. Johnelle I. Savage, chairman; Mrs. Francis True, Mrs. Jay Hatten, Miss Josephine Alfonso, and Laurence Aden, program director and head of the Oden School of Music in Pass Christian.

The Sunday afternoon young people's concert was preceded by a reception for the members. Mr. Oden anticipates more programs of a non-professional nature in which members and their families will participate each month.

The Spring Flower Show of the Pass Christian Garden Club was held last Thursday.

On entering the foyer of the Parish House, the Junior Garden Club members had an unusual display - stressing the use of driftwood. One particular piece, using holly, was made up as a Ming Tree, another as a centerpiece. In the center of the display was the Junior Garden Club scrapbook, the outer covering of plywood, painted and decorated.

Inside the building the tables were grouped along the walls in U shapes. At the far end of the room the entire stage had been made into an outdoor patio, complete with brick terrace, fireplace, barbecue pit, hurricane lamps, tables and chairs. The flower beds were banked with Dogwood, exergreens, then the lower flowers of geraniums, begonias, caladiums, Ivy and Philodendron. It was such a clever and unusual idea.

Mrs. Wm. G. Billings was in charge of refreshments, with Mrs. John Judd and Mrs. Hayward HMT Hill, assisting; and Mrs. Hilmyer pouring at the tea table. The center arrangement of Spring flowers was carried out even to the flower topped petit fours.

Mrs. Geo. Smith was Sweepstakes winner, being presented with a large purple magnolia.

The judges for the event were Mrs. Melvin Nest and Mrs. D. R. Fitzroy of Biloxi and Mrs. Eugene Magobgab of Bay St. Louis.

Ribbons were given 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners in eighth divisions. The winners follow:

Miles and Miles of Wire To bring Mississippi Farm Families Closer Together

THE TELEPHONE WIRES that join the towns and rural areas served by Southern Bell in Mississippi would stretch around the world. . . . And we're adding many more miles as we push steadily ahead on a construction program to bring telephone service within reach of more and more farm homes and business establishments in the areas we serve.

Already there are four and a half times as many Southern Bell rural telephones in Mississippi as there were just eight years ago and, in spite of inflated costs of everything that goes into telephone construction, we're continuing to push still more rural lines out to the farms.

It's Big 15 For Maria Del Carmen

In Spanish speaking countries a girl's 15th birthday is a big event - and Sunday, Maria Christine Del Carmen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Del Carmen of this city and Guatemala was given a large party in the real tradition of the day.

Approximately 100 guests, including 60 students at St. Joseph's Academy, eight from St. Stanislaus and Spanish speaking families in this area attended. Also invited were a few close friends of the Del Carmens here in Bay St. Louis.

The dark-haired, dark-eyed daughter of the Guatemala coffee planter was dressed for her party in a dress of light blue. She was also presented on her birthday with her first evening gown, a taffeta and net combination in pale yellow.

The long refreshment table at the Del Carmen home and the entire house was bedecked in the youthful spring colors of light pink and blue. The birthday cake, too, was decorated with these colors, but the refreshment favorites of the day were the Spanish tidbits such as black bean paste spread on thin slices of bread and topped with grated cheese.

The entire group of guests attended mass as an opening to the day's events, sitting in a body at Our Lady of the Gulf Church to hear the prayers offered for the occasion.

The guests were entertained during the afternoon by Spanish songs and dances performed by the young people.

And as there must be a flaw in even the perfect 15th birthday, there was one in the absence of Maria's father who could not attend because of pressing duties at his business in the south. He plans to visit his home here, soon, however.

Wall Street and Main Street

The thinking on Wall Street and Main Street is never quite the same. For months now the political economists and business experts have been trying to decide whether the country is in a recession, headed for one or already on the road to recovery.

While Wall Street is the nation's financial nerve-center, Main Street, closer to the grass-roots, feels more keenly the pulse of the people. Wall Street becomes more easily pessimistic.

Even when Wall Street has financial fits, business goes on about as usual in the countless towns and cities where the emotions of men are less disturbed by the rise and fall of the stock market.

Washington the political nerve-center of the country, assures us that if there is a serious drop in business or an increase in unemployment, the administration will use emergency weapons to boost our economy, among which are tax-reductions and easier credit.

Naturally these stimulators would increase the national debt, give us cheaper money and more inflation. Cheaper money undermines the purchasing power of the dollar and shrinks the real value of our savings, our life insurance, government bonds and social security. Inflation alleviates the pain but in the end is a killer. It provides a little loose change while it destroys what one has accumulated through blood and sweat.

So while Wall Street speculates on the future and Washington woolgathers, let's take a commonsense view of the situation and stick to our knitting. There is no absolute proof that government has the ability to control a depression or that anyone on earth has the power to forecast the future. Many generations of men and women have been fooled.

The experience of those who live on Main Street is that 'it's better to be safe than sorry.' Old Socrates, the Greek philosopher, told his people 2356 years ago, Pay your debts and tell the truth.' It's still good gospel.

It's still as smart as it was in our fathers' time to do an honest day's work, live within one's income, spend wisely and save something. A man who pays his debts and sticks to the truth ought not to have too many worries. Main Street is still the most stabilizing influence in the nation's complicated economy.
